

Your area of responsibility

- Responsible for all mechanical aspects of various new electronic products that Escatec develops for its customers operating in a wide range of market segments around the world
- Participation in product development from concept to prototype to pilot series
- Design and development based on new product concepts or previous product versions of our customers
- Product qualification in accordance with the requirements in the specifications and applicable standards
- Development of product test and production devices
- Collaboration with relevant customer interfaces and external development, industrial design and production partners

Your qualification

- HF, FH or university degree in mechanical engineering, systems engineering or mechatronics
- Experience in product development is an advantage, but we are also open to talented graduates
- Proficient in the use of 3D CAD and PLM systems
- Knowledge in the fields of electronics, plastics, optics, fluidics and/or high-volume production of consumer and medical products is an advantage
- Team player and strong communication skills in English are required, German is a plus
- Enjoy solving complex and technical challenges
- High willingness to learn, curiosity and the ability to act responsibly and proactively in the interests of our customers

We offer

- Varied tasks from different industries and branches from industrial electronics to consumer electronics and medical products
- Work in the inspiring atmosphere of our D&D Innovation Hub in a multidisciplinary team with creative and experienced product developers from HW, SW, mechanics and industrialization
- Free parking directly on site and good public transport connections
- Flexible working hours with a 40-hour week and the option of working from home
- Fair payment through salary scales and profit sharing
- Financial support for further education and internal development opportunities
- Team spirit, fun, ideas and personal initiative at work are important to us and are encouraged through various employee events, benefits and a wide range of health promotion activities

Contact

Melanie Ben Chekaya
Human Resources
ESCATEC Switzerland AG
9435 Heerbrugg
jobs@escatec.com
+41 71 556 31 72